

SUCCESSFUL SEASON FOR FROSH HARRIERS

Go Through Season With Only One Defeat and Tie for Second Place at New England Intercollegiates Cleveland and Cahalan Share Honors.

The freshman cross-country season was one of the most successful in the history of the University. The yearling harriers won two of their four dual meets, tied one and lost one, besides tying for second place in the freshman division of the New England Intercollegiates. Undoubtedly other freshman aggregations in this section have as good or better records but when the fact that only three of the men have had any real previous experience is taken into consideration, the true merit of the performance becomes apparent.

Cahalan of Fitchburg was the individual star at the beginning of the year but was forced to share the lime-light with Capt. "Buddy" Cleveland before the final run. Churchill and Whitney also did some excellent work.

The yearlings won their first victory on October 12, taking Tilton School into camp with an 18-37 score and, incidentally, capturing the first four places. The following Saturday, although Low of Pinkerton was the individual winner, the youthful hill-and-dalers, took the next four places and won the meet, 22-33. The first defeat came a week later at the hands of the strong M. I. T. team. McClintock won this race. The score was 26-29. On October 31, the out-standing performance of the season took place when for the first time a New Hampshire freshman team tied Andover, Cahalan placed first, while his teammates helped turn in a 28-28 score.

In the Intercollegiates (Cleveland nosed out Cahalan for second place with McClintock again taking the big honors. M. I. T.'s freshmen captured the meet with 96 points but New Hampshire tied the Maine harriers for second each turning in a score of 104.

LIBRARY HAS WORLD COURT MATERIAL ON RESERVE LIST

There is much material concerning the World Court on reserve on the table at the right of the door in the library. Many of the pamphlets contain the principles and purposes of the Court in a concise manner and every student owes a few minutes of his time to this question which is of such importance to the World.

"A World Court or no World Court" is a question of vital importance to students in all colleges and universities in the United States at the present time. Until quite recently most students have considered the World Court of little interest and of small importance, but since World Peace depends largely on the success or failure of the Court, which in turn depends greatly on the participation of the United States, the matter has been brought to the attention of all college men and women in order that they may use their influence and bring the public in closer touch with the importance of the situation.

MASK AND DAGGER HAS CLASSIC AS FALL TERM PLAY

Eleanor Conant Plays Leading Feminine Role

M. TAYLOR AS SHYLOCK

To be Presented in Community House on Wednesday and Thursday of Next Week... Tickets Priced at Fifty Cents.

As its annual Fall term play, Mask and Dagger will present "The Merchant Of Venice," in the Community House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. The performances will commence at 8. p. m. sharp. The scenes of the play are laid in Venice and in Belmont during the Italian Renaissance.

For many weeks Coach William G. Hennessy and his players have been constantly busy perfecting their interpretation of Shakespeare's masterpiece. The appeal of this world famous comedy-drama will be enhanced by adequate settings, handsome costumes, and the inclusion of musical numbers by a selected double quartet from the glee clubs, and by Professor Edmund W. Bowler. The leading masculine role of "Shylock" is being played by Melville Taylor of "Grumpy" fame, while the feminine lead "Portia" is being portrayed by Eleanor Conant.

Because of its cultural value alone this is a production which no student of this University can afford to miss. The tickets are priced at fifty cents and can be obtained at fraternity houses and stores on the campus. The cast is as follows:

SKATING ON POND GOVERNED BY RULES

Pond to be Used Only When Blue Flag is Flying. Christensen to Have Entire Charge.

All skating on the pond back of the gymnasium will be under the jurisdiction of the Department of Physical Education for Men. E. W. Christensen, hockey coach, will have entire charge of the pond during the season. Notices and posters will be issued and all students must skate in accordance with the rules, whether for physical education, hockey, or mere pleasure skating. The flag and light system used last winter will be again e used. The flags will be displayed on a rope across the Main street in front of the gymnasium.

Red flag indicates "No Skating". Absolutely no one will be allowed on the ice except workmen.

Blue flag indicates "Good Ice". Skating permitted.

Orange flag indicates poor ice; work necessary before skating will be permitted.

Day skating will be governed by these signals. For night skating, lights will be shown from the cabin at the pond. The important thing to remember is that no skating will be allowed unless the blue flag is flying.

WINTER SPORTS STARTS STRONG

Michelson Re-elected Captain of 1926 Team

BIG MEET HERE FEBRUARY 12

Forty-five Men Report for First Meeting of Winter Sports Candidates. Men go to Lake Placid for College Week During Vacation.

A strenuous season was outlined to more than 40 candidates for the Winter Sports team by Coach Perley at a meeting of the men in the Gymnasium on November 23. Training for the men will begin under the direction of Coaches Perley and Sweet this week, so that the men will be in condition for the first big meet at Lake Placid from December 28 to January 2. Gunnar Michelson, '26, for three years intercollegiate ski jumping champion, was chosen by the letter men to lead the team for the second consecutive year. A triangular meet between New Hampshire, Dartmouth and Williams will be held here on February 12 and 13, and this event will undoubtedly be the feature of the New Hampshire Winter Carnival, although no definite plans have yet been made. A meeting of last year's committee and several other upperclassmen interested in the promotion of Winter Sports here will be held this evening to decide on definite organization plans for this year's event.

Several important changes have been made in the conduct of the meets for this year. All events will be tallied the same. First place will count five points, second place three, and third place one point. Formerly ski jumping scored more heavily in the final score but all events are now on the same basis. The snow shoe sprints have been abandoned, and the snowshoe cross country race has been lengthened to five miles. New Hampshire prospects are again bright with Michelson, Peaslee, Littlefield, Smith and several other sure point winners out for the team. A large number of new men reported, from whom Coach Perley hopes to develop some promising skaters. It is in this department that the Blue and White teams have been weak in the past.

This year's schedule calls for an intra-mural meet on January 30, in which both fraternity and non-fraternity men may compete. This meet was won single handed by Michelson last year. On February 4, 5 and 6, the Divisional Meet will be held at Williams. On February 12 and 13 the triangular meet with Dartmouth and Williams will be held here, and on February 18, 19 and 20, the final Intercollegiate meet for the championship of the Eastern United States and Canada will be held at Hanover, in which the winners of the first two places in the Divisional meets, held earlier will battle for the final honors in their events.

AFFIRMATIVE WINS EVOLUTION DEBATE

Teams from English 61a Present Novel Convocation Feature—Student Body Votes to Send Delegates to World Court Conference

A spirited debate on evolution in which the affirmative side won the decision by popular vote was the feature of Convocation on Wednesday.

The subject of the debate was, "Resolved: That the Book of Genesis gives a more vivid account of the origin of species than do any of the modern evolutionary theories." The teams were composed of members of English course 61a. The speakers for the affirmative were Ortho O'Leary, W. A. Piper, and Cleveland Sleeper, while Gladys Harris, Lloyd Simpson and Paul Johnson presented the negative side of the argument. The rebuttal speakers were Sleeper and Johnson. Ruth Finn was captain of the affirmative team, Rachel Sanborn, secretary, and D. M. Cohen, Natalie Moulton and Catherine Flanagan acted as alternates. The negative team consisted of Edith Courser, captain; Frances Fairchild, secretary; and G. H. Somerville, Langdon Smith and Gwendolyn Jones alternates.

Following Convocation, Harry Steere, president of the Student Council, held a short meeting to affirm the delegates selected by the Student Council to go to the World Court conference which will be held next week at Harvard. Those who will go to the conference are John Neville, Natalie Moulton and Harry Page.

LADIES AID FAIR HELD AT COMMUNITY HOUSE

Friday, November 20, the annual Ladies' Aid Fair was held at the Community House.

During the afternoon there were many attractions for the children, including the Fish Pond, and an entertainment of stunts.

Supper was served in the dining room to a large number of the town people.

The net proceeds for the Fair amounted to three hundred and fifty dollars which exceeded the amount anticipated.

STUDENTS PLEDGE TO THE BAND IS NOT BEING KEPT

Every student in Convocation stood on his feet when John Neville asked for a rising vote to show confidence in the Band Uniform Project earlier in the term. Then the Band appeared in their snappy outfits. They were cheered to the echo at the Home coming game and again at Manchester. They were a credit to the University and to its student body.

The discouraging part of the whole affair is that the uniforms are not half paid for as yet. Twenty-five dollars is the total amount given to the fund. The remainder of the $400 already raised has come from the proceeds of dances, and the kindness of a local merchant. One last effort to complete the fund will be made next week when an old fashioned New Hampshire Stunt Night will be staged by the Committee in an attempt to clean up the whole matter. Every student should buy a ticket to the entertainment. He will enjoy himself at the entertainment and he will be fulfilling the pledge which he made to the Band before the uniforms were bought.

TWO MILE RELAY RACE WITH COLBY CALLED OFF

The varsity two mile relay race with Colby as an opponent which was to have taken place this Saturday has been called off at the request of Colby officials. Candidates who were training for the event have been dismissed. Coach Sweet announces however that regular practice for the varsity and freshman one mile teams will commence within a few days.

WHAT THE WORLD COURT IS

The statute creating the organization and defining the jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice was drawn up by a committee of international jurists, of whom Elihu Root was one, appointed by the council of the League of Nations, February 13, 1920.

The Court is composed of 11 regular judges and four deputy judges by the majority vote of two specially designated electoral bodies, each body acting separately.

The statute provides: The Court "shall be composed of a body of independent judges, Who possess the qualifications required in their respective countries for appointment to the highest judicial offices, or are jurisconsults of recognized competence in international law;" and "should represent the main forces of civilization and the principal legal systems of the world."

THE PROPOSALS

1. FOR UNITED STATES PARTICIPATION IN THE WORLD COURT UNDER THE "HARDING-HUGHES-COOLIDGE TERMS."
(The United States not to be connected with the League of Nations or bound to any obligations under the League Covenant; not to be bound by advisory opinions of the Court on questions not voluntarily submitted by the U. S.)

2. FOR U. S. PARTICIPATION UNDER THE "HARMONY PLAN" OF THIRTY PEACE LEADERS.
(The United States to join the court under the "Harding-Hughes-Coolidge Terms" but to withdraw after five years unless a code of international law has been adopted outlawing war and the Court given jurisdiction.)

3. FOR UNITED STATES PARTICIPATION UNDER THE "BORAH TERMS."
(The U. S. not to join the World Court until international law has been codified outlawing war, and the Court given jurisdiction; the U. S. not to be thereby connected with the League of Nations.)

4. AGAINST U. S. PARTICIPATION IN THE WORLD COURT.

VARSITY LOSES IN FINAL GAME

Odds Overwhelming But Team Puts up Hard Fight

O'CONNOR'S LAST GAME

Bruins Without Keefer Would Have Been Lost. O'Connor and Davis Score Touchdowns. Long Runs are Feature of Game.

Fighting against odds throughout, the varsity eleven went down to defeat before more than six thousand people, in a thrilling game against Brown University at Providence, R. I. It was the final game on the schedule and the first defeat of the season for the New Hampshire team. All the elements that put thrills in a football game were present. There were runs ranging from 60 to 88 yards, punts over 60 yards, and forward passes that travelled more than 30 yards through the air. Jack Keefer and "Eddie" O'Connor were the individual stars of the game while Foster and Langdell made some sensational tackles.

The scoring began shortly before the end of the first quarter when Keefer, the All-American halfback, got away for a 45 yard sprint through the New Hampshire line to score the first touchdown. A few minutes later Randall, his teammate, ran for another touchdown, to be followed by Keefer, who this time, sprinted for 60 yards before he was downed behind the goal line.

The New Hampshire thrills came in the second quarter when Captain O'Connor picked up a loose ball on his own 12 yard line and, eluding all tacklers, made an 88 yard run for a score. Shortly after this Nicora threw a long pass to Davis who picked the ball out of the air, after two Brown players had almost succeeded in batting it out of range, and ran the remaining 30 yards for another New Hampshire touchdown. O'Connor kicked both goals.

The score at the end of the first half stood 18 to 14 in favor of Brown. Judging by the actions of the Brown Bear which was led on to the field (Continued on Page 3)

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP DEFEATING TRI GAMMS

Kappa Sigma's Triumph Over Opponents in Fast Exhibition of Basketball—Final Game of Tourney

The fastest and most spectacular exhibition of basketball took place on the Thursday before vacation when the Tri Gamma quintet was defeated by the Kappa Sigma five in a game that required two five minute overtime periods before the victor could be decided. The contest started off with little scoring and developed into fast passing exhibition. The same pace was held throughout the game. At no time was there a margin of more than three points between the scores of the two teams. The scoring was done in rather a hectic, see-saw fashion. First the Tri Gamma team would take the lead and then the Kappa five would rally and score enough points to lead the contest. Beatti finally came through with a basket in the last overtime period that won the game for his team.

This win gives the Kappa's the championship of the National League. The championship series of the two leagues begins on next Friday afternoon when this team will play the Alpha Tau Omega quintet, who have since won the lead in the American League.

DURHAM, N. H., DECEMBER 3

THE WORLD COURT

The University of New Hampshire

is one of the two hundred and sixty three colleges and universities in the United States that has signified its intention to join in the nation wide poll of the universities to determine the interest that the students have in the World Court. Practically every institution has shown the greatest enthusiasm possible, and is cooperating to help the New Student World Court Committee in the poll. It is of vital interest to any student body.

The World Court has for its purpose, the outlawry of war. It is up to this generation, to say whether or not they want world peace.

We are sending three delegates to the Boston World Court Convention, December 4, 5 and 6, and these delegates are going to report the minutes of the conference to the student body at Convocation, December 9. Ex-Governor Bass is to explain the World Court to the students at convocation on that date. The sponsors of this movement have not the idea of creating any political feeling but are doing it from the educational standpoint.

In taking part in this movement we are ranking with the leading colleges in the country. Dartmouth is sending ten delegates to the Conference at Amherst. Harvard and Yale have private wires leading to the headquarters of the World Court Committee at Princeton. Brown is running articles every day in the Daily Herald pertaining to the subject. In fact every college that is known at all is taking an active part in the matter. We must and we will put it across in as good a manner as the rest of the colleges.

At convocation next Wednesday, after Ex-Governor Bass has addressed the students and after the delegates have reported, ballots will be distributed and a vote taken. A sample ballot is shown on the front page of this week's paper. The committee hopes that the students will not vote in a hap-hazard fashion but will cast their votes intelligently. The New Hampshire has printed articles on the World Court in the last three issues; there is abundant material in the Library, and practically every department in the University is bringing the subject before the students.

Vote as you honestly wish to. No signature is needed. Nobody need be afraid to vote truthfully.

The results of this vote will make up part of a nation-wide poll being conducted at this time. The results of our poll will be published next week. If the total results for the country are obtainable, they too, will be published. The results of the student vote of the country will be presented to Congress, December 17, when the question will be discussed.

Vote whether you are for or against.

To the Editor:

In regard to your article "Shall It Be The Bulls?" in the last issue of "The New Hampshire" I should like to state that in my opinion and that of several other members of my illustrious class, the term "Durham Bulls" seems entirely a misnomer. We have been advised by better-informed and, perhaps, equally intelligent upper-class brothers to share "bull-sessions" as we would Sunday Schools or sophomore class meetings. Would not every athletic contest merit this term?

Then, too, if our warriors were "bulls" would not our fair co-eds, in all probability, be called "cows?" This might arouse some dispute.

"Durham Bulls" sounds too much like a debating team or the wrong end of a cigarette.

Freshman.

To the Editor:

Your very timely editorial upon "the Bulls" in last week's issue was very enlightening to me, as no doubt it was to many other alumni who have wondered where this cognomen sprung from which we have been reading about in the newspapers. With all due respect to the bull, who is a very worthy and courageous animal, the nickname "New Hampshire Bulls" savors too much of the barnyard for a university as broad in its scope as ours is.

To the unknown outsider New Hampshire, with such a name, is promptly thought of as a strictly agricultural institution. It is only in recent years that the athletic writers of the newspapers have ceased to call our teams "The New Hampshire Farmers" or "Aggies" and now they have this new name which to my mind is not an improvement. It is time to adopt a name which will be representative and satisfactory to the University and its students and alumni, getting away forever from the "Durham College" caption and the idea of New Hampshire as a hayseed institution, which has been suggested by all the nicknames of the past including "The Bulls."

I humbly suggest the "Mountain Lions" as a name symbolic of an animal native to the state in which our fast growing institution is in. It is true that other colleges have similar names. Columbia has its "Lion," and Penn State teams have always been known as the "Nittany Lions" but no other team in New England has the fighting and admirable animal for its mascot. Hoping that the "Bulls" are kept in the pasture.

An Alumnae of New York City.

To the Editor:

I was interested in your editorial in the issue of November 19 concerning a nickname for varsity teams. It seems to me that this is a particularly pertinent time for discussion on the subject.

Unless some change is effected, the hockey team will again be referred to as the "Durham Bulls" in the sport press. If this happens, the name will probably stick, and we will become known throughout the east in all our varsity sports as the "Durham Bulls."

Personally, I believe the name is rather a doubtful honor. It savors of a past era when we were nothing more than an agricultural college. That time is past and we pride ourselves on being a University. Why not extend a little of that pride to our varsity teams?

There are many possible names that we could adopt. I will suggest only one, the "Granite Staters." There are faults with that, it is long for one thing, and it precludes the idea of a mascot. "Granite Staters" has one advantage however; it has been used by the press to some extent during the fall to designate our football team. It would be an easy name to "put across."

There is nothing undignified about "Granite Staters," and it is indicative of New Hampshire. It falls down in being inanimate. You can't picture a piece of granite defying the Brown "Bear" or massacreing the Tufts "Jumbo." But if you don't like it, what have you?

Yours respectfully,

Interested.

To the Editor:

This man "Senior," how naive he is. He has been here three years and he feels very grown up. Does he not know that the world is a very evil place and that the baleful viper of unrestraint awaits without?

Here, under the wise guidance of those who mold our destiny, we form and temper the armor which will shield us from the temptations of the naughty world. Perhaps "Senior" feels that his armor is strong and that the world holds no fears for him. But think of the underclassmen

"Senior;" how will these tender ones fare if you expose them to such things as midnight informals?

The authorities, in their wisdom, have decided that eleven o'clock is a very late hour for young people to be out and that to extend the time would be conducive to great harm. Have they not lived, have they not seen the pitfalls of the gay night life? Consider again that, although you may feel strong, the future of your juniors is at stake.

Why even now, with things as they are, the strain is terrific. It brings tears of pity to the eyes of those watching an informal. How weary they all look—dead from the neck down. They try to force their tired bodies to palpitate in time with the music. Their gaze sweeps around the floor in agony. They seem to be in a state of coma, or in the first stages of sleeping sickness. At last, after a heart-breaking effort, one couple staggers on to the floor. This gives courage to the rest and slowly, painfully, they face themselves to a few more minutes of activity.

It is pitiful, "Senior" and you would make it worse. Have mercy!

Yours respectfully,

Stag Line.

CO-EDS

(With Apologies to William Wordsworth)

The Co-ed's too much with us; morn and noon,

Getting and spending, she lays waste our powers:

We buy her gifts of rings and flowers,

And dance with her to a jazz-time tune.

This "she" that bares her soul to every man,

And breaking rules goes walking after hours,

And talks of Life, and Love, and sun-kissed bowers,

Will bring us to an end that only woman can.

She moves me not.—Good Night! I'd rather be

A wanderer on the blist'ring sands Than linger where I have to see

Poor foolish man do tricks at her command.

But if one co-ed turns her eyes on me I'm just like putty in her fickle hands.

S. N. Weston.

WORLD COURT COMMITTEE APPROVES NOMINATIONS

At a meeting of the World Court Committee of the University, held Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. office, the delegates chosen by the student Council were accepted and it was decided to place their names before the student body for ratification at convocation Wednesday.

The delegates will leave Durham Friday and will return Sunday night. They will attend all lectures of the Conference held in Boston and will be ready to report to the student body at Convocation the following Wednesday.

the election of judges. In 1920 Mr. Root, then a member of the Advisory Committee of Jurists, to which the League of Nations had committed the work of drafting a plan for a World Court, again brought forward his plan and it was adopted with slight amendments. The seat of the World Court is The Hague. The Court consists of eleven judges and four deputies. The judges are nominated by the national groups composing the old Hague Permanent Court of Arbitration. Each national group may name four persons, only two of whom may be of their own nationality. Since 43 nations are members of the Permanent Court of Arbitration and each nation may make four nominations, it is possible for the list of nominations for judges of the World Court to consist of 172 names. The statute of the Court provides that the Court must consist of men possessing certain outstanding qualifications and that the whole body shall represent "the main forms of civilization" and "the principal legal systems of the world." I call particular attention to the fact that The Hague Court of Arbitration makes these nominations and this court is wholly independent of the League of Nations. The Assembly and the Council of the League vote separately, but an absolute majority in each is necessary for election. Not more than one judge may come from any one nation. Every means has been taken to secure competent judges and to safeguard the interests of all the members of the Court. As an additional safeguard, reservation number two, as proposed by Presidents Harding and Coolidge and Secretary Hughes, reads as follows:

"The United States shall be permitted to participate through representatives designated for the purpose and upon an equality with other states, members, respectively, of the Council and Assembly of the League of Nations, in any and all proceedings of either the Council or the Assembly for the election of judges or deputy judges of the Permanent Court of International Justice or for the filling of vacancies."

As a further safeguard, reservation number four, reads as follows:

"That the statute for the Permanent Court of International Justice adjoined to the Protocol shall not be amended without the consent of the United States."

I submit that in view of the method of electing judges to the World Court and in the light of the reservations which America demands as a condition of our joining the Court, it is of very little consequence whether or not the Court is a part of the League of Nations. Can an American statesman be so obsessed with the isolationist spirit that he would object to joining the World Court because it is part of the League of Nations, which League we at one time refused to join?

between the halves the Brown team was thoroughly frightened. The Bear showed little friendliness towards the New Hampshire spectators.

Payor and Dixon, backfield stars of three years' experience, were rushed into the game. Both of these men managed to get away for touchdowns before the end of the third quarter. During this period New Hampshire opened up with a barrage of forward passes. Much ground was gained by this type of play and critics predicted that had the New Hampshire team resorted to forward passing earlier in the game the score might have been different. Although the ball was taken down the field several times to within a few yards of the Bruins' goal in the last quarter of play, the New Hampshire players were unable to score; they seemed to lack the final push necessary to make the touchdowns.

The Brown team has been under rated by the critics this year. The only other teams to score as many points against this club as New Hampshire did, have been Dartmouth and Yale, two of the strongest teams in the east. Without Keefer, Brown would have been lost. He is by far the best runner that New Hampshire has been up against this year. Keefer is a slippery back, hard to tackle and very elusive. His worth to the Providence team was shown by the looseness of play when he was taken out at the close of the second period, just before New Hampshire staged its big rally.

The Bruins were forced to use their best men in this game although the score seems to indicate an easy win. The work of Abbiatti, Hoagland, Langdell and Hubbard was very commendable. They will form a strong nucleus for the 1926 team.

When the orchestra stops its surge of music—and the applauding couples begin to leave the floor—when you join the good fellows for jolly talk and friendship—have a Camel!

Camels contain the very choicest tobaccos grown in all the world. Camels are blended by the world's most expert blenders. Nothing is too good for Camels. In the making of this one brand we concentrate the tobacco knowledge and skill of the largest organization of tobacco experts in the world. No other cigarette made is like Camels. They are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN the orchestra gives you encore after encore, but finally stops. And the couples glowing with happiness reluctantly leave the floor. When you join the men for jovial talk until the next dance begins—have a Camel!

For no friend so enhances the joys of life as Camel. Camel makes every happy occasion happier, adds its own charm to every festive day, every blithesome evening. Camels contain the very choicest tobaccos grown in all the world. They never tire your taste, no matter how freely you smoke them. They're so skilfully blended they never leave a cigarette after-taste. Rolled into Camels is every good feature you have ever wished for in a cigarette.

So, when you're waiting happily and confidently for your time to rejoin the dance—taste the smoke that's known and loved by the world's experienced smokers. No doubt about it, you'll never know how good a cigarette can be until you—

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

"That's a clean, neat, intelligent piece of work"

THE professor continues, "Perhaps other papers were equally intelligent, but their merit was obscured by illegible penmanship. If everybody would learn to use a portable typewriter, it would save your time and mine and relieve me from the drudgery of reading longhand."

Neat, legible, typewritten manuscript keeps the "profs" in perfect "reading humor." And perfect "reading humor" tends to mean better marks. Then too, a writing machine for your personal use is helpful in compiling your notes, and in writing those letters home.

The New Remington Portable is preferred by students because it is the lightest, smallest, and most compact of all standard keyboard portables.

We will gladly show you this machine and explain our easy payment plan.

J. C. KENDALL ELECTED TO IMPORTANT COMMITTEE

Director J. C. Kendall of the University of New Hampshire Extension Service and Experiment Station was awarded a high honor at the recent meeting of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges at Chicago, when he was chosen to serve for three years on the Committee of Organization and Policy of the Experiment Stations.

This is the most important committee having to do with the work of the Experiment Stations, and the post is doubly important now on account of the passage of the Purnell bill by the last Congress. The bill makes possible the starting of experiments in several new lines of activity including Agricultural Economics, Rural Sociology, and Home Economics, and at maturity will more than double previous Federal appropriations for research work in agriculture.

"AGGIE" NEWS

An implement shed is being built on the north side of the horse barn to be used in housing the ever-increasing supply of machinery used on the college farm. This building is to be 72 feet long and 24 feet deep. Professor McNutt has recently completed remodeling the Amazene barn for use as a sheep barn for the Animal Husbandry Department.

A new drainage system is being installed in the Dairy Barn to carry off the water used in washing the walls and floors. At present this is not carried off and leaves the barn damp after being cleaned.

Following round-table conferences in the afternoon on cooperative relationships with the Farm Bureau and other organizations, there will be an important evening meeting in the Agricultural Club room, Morrill Hall, with addresses by President Hetzel and Director H. C. Ramsower of the Ohio State University Extension Service.
